Vegetable materials – inspired by and bathed in nature

Vegetable leather is formed in the classic, most natural way, giving leather particularly valuable properties and characteristics – uniqueness in appearance, softness when touched, and comfort when worn.

Vegetable leather benefits from tanning with the use of natural tannins, which preserve and imbue unique characteristics – not only exceptional flexibility and softness, but also that quintessential smell of leather, which is only noticeable due to the natural process of tanning – without the use of chrome VI compounds or any other detrimental chemicals. Such methods in the natural, vegetable tanning of leather are synonymous with only the most traditional, healthy and natural processes contributing to a unique appearance with emphasis on environmental awareness.

We are a responsible company, offering to our consumers a safe and health-promoting product, controlled in all phases of manufacture. Every shoe that we introduce to the market is produced in an ecologic way without any damaging substances or Chrome – VI compounds. Our shoes care for the environment just as much as they care about the health of the child.

We select only the best materials.
