

TARMEKO
NORDIC

TARMEKO, once a woodworking cartel, is now an innovative FSC® (C116426) certified furniture producer in Estonia. The company has been working together with Scandinavian and Estonian designers. The created products are collected under the trade mark Tarmeko Nordic®.

The brand carries the new contemporary expression with a touch of classical style elements so that the furniture would fit every home, office or public space. The collection includes timelessly elegant chairs and tables together with other accessories to make the surrounding interior more comfortable and luxurious.

Since Tarmeko values the environment and innovative thinking, the company uses high quality raw and finishing materials from responsible sources, the best fashionable fabrics or leathers and technical solutions in design that are practical and sustainable.

N037

N037 is a chair designed by Carsten Buhl. The elegant yet modern chair is an excellent addition to the lounge area and office waiting or meeting room.

Frame: birch or oak top veneer

Cover: natural leather or fabric

Ray / RayBoy / Tuular

RAY, RAYBOY AND TUULAR - products that have been designed by Elmet Treier. The pale oak top veneer and elegant metal legs create a traditional feeling but with a truly contemporary edge.

A modern interior scene featuring a hanging lamp and two chairs against a distressed wall. The wall is made of light-colored plaster with significant peeling and cracking, revealing a darker surface underneath. A hanging lamp with a dark, curved shade is suspended by two thin black cords. In the foreground, two chairs with dark metal frames and light brown seats are positioned on a wooden plank floor. The chair on the left is a standard chair, while the one on the right is a taller stool. The overall aesthetic is industrial and minimalist.
