ZALABA DESIGN

Zalaba Design stands for New Bauhaus design, Swiss-Italian luxury furniture and modern interiors.

The family business Zalaba Design is a Zurich based design studio specialized in customized furniture production, interior and exhibition design.

Their passion is to create timeless, elegant and high-end pieces, which merge New Bauhaus design and artisan craftsmanship in beautiful artistic synchronicity.

With more than 500 possible color variations, each piece is as unique as its owner. Zalaba mixes the finest Italian leather, fabric and wood with the most precious metal, glass and marble.

Bauhaus Design influences the shape and materials of Zalaba's exclusive furniture collections. They were credited to bring avant-garde design to the high-end furniture market providing office, retail and home luxury.

GINGER ZALABA

Young Swiss designer conquering the international design scene.

Before beginning her tenure as CEO and designer of Zalaba Design in 2012, she graduated with a Masters degree in exhibition design at the University of the Arts Zurich while organizing exhibitions and working in multiple art galleries.

After her post-graduate studies in interior design at IED Milano, she spent a year of internship in a studio focused on architecture and interior design in Zurich.

In 2015, she debuted her first furniture collection KOLB in Milano at Salone del Mobile, paying homage to her grandfathers Bauhaus Design principles.

This collection's success led instantly to working relationships with different international companies around the world.

“We dedicate a reduction of design to showcase the essence of materials used, this exposes the purity of form and function - less is more.”
Ginger Zalaba

KOLB COLLECTION

Ginger Zalaba has taken it upon herself to initiate her first furniture collection in honor of her grandfather Otto Kolb - a Swiss born architect and industrial designer. The Otto Kolb® redesigns represent the 1950s and 60s era of sleek furniture design. Zalaba's inspiration originates from design classics of the mid-20th century, an era responsible for shaping what we know today as Modern Design.

Otto Kolb taught design at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago during the 1940s. In addition to teaching, Kolb was commissioned to build several contemporary homes in the United States, among them the Horner-House in Illinois which was entered in the National Register of Historic Places.

Kolb was honored with an award from the New York Museum of Modern Art. During the 1950s and 60s, Kolb produced a limited edition of modern furniture. One of his chairs is exhibited in the Louvre in Paris. Otto Kolb's furniture has been featured in auctions held by both Sotheby's and Quittenbaum.

ZULU COLLECTION

ZULU - Inspired by the ambition of sublime harmony, this collection merges modernism with traditional African art, as Zalaba invites the viewer to broaden their horizon and embrace cultural exchange.

The structural form of Zalaba's edition is a symbiosis of the letters that comprise ZULU, the name of a South African tribe. Zulu's native art, which is traditionally colorful and geometric, has also inspired the graphics for the fabrics Zalaba has designed. Each new edition features a different graphic, carefully selected to pair the modernity of sleek design with the tradition inherent in visual patterns drawn from the ancient cradle of all human art.

Look carefully and you'll see the letters Z and L form the frame of each piece, serving as prominent structural catalysts in the creation of each chair and table. Taken in total, the geometric simplicity of the design combines with colorful graphics of the fabric to make the ZULU collection an aesthetic satisfaction.

OLA COLLECTION

Inspired by Milano, Italy's cultural metropolis of design and fashion, Zalaba's exclusive Ola collection reminds of the 1970s clean and organic shaped look and Art Deco's celebration of modern life, emphasizing luxury and sophistication.

The Ola Collection includes high-end furniture and accessories, featuring circular and oval details in metal, wood, marble, velvet and leather.

The Ola Collection is another accomplishment for bent steel in modern design; its cantilevered base is proof that Bauhaus aesthetics have never gone out of style.

With Zalaba's sophisticated online shop you can define your own aesthetic. Through the use of high-grade materials combined with the application of sleek industrial design, Zalaba Design creates furniture for a lifetime.

AISUU COLLECTION

Love is in the air - The pieces of the Love collection are as light as air and inspired by Otto Kolb's prototype produced in 1950, which was sufficiently eye-catching and featured in an early Playboy Magazine.

They fit beautifully into retail and hospitality spaces and inevitably become the focal point of any scene. Pure modern geometric design characterizes the work of Ginger Zalaba. In her perception good design is a sculptural interpretation of functionality.

Combining minimalism with materialism has resulted in new and original forms. Zalaba's pieces are hand crafted in Italy, ranging different leather colors and steel finishings.

"The Love collection is my contribution to Nordic Design. I mixed it with New Bauhaus to emphasize my love affair with steel and leather. Combining function, form and materials in it's simplest, most beautiful way. The collection is sleek and sexy and will flood your space with joy." Ginger Zalaba.

LULU COLLECTION

The approach of the LULU collection is to bring art, architecture and design closer together.

Pure architecture speaks for itself. Minimalism is a tool to find freedom. Space doesn't always have to be filled with objects just to not leave it unused. In general that's not conducive to good design. What's left out is just as important than what's left in - space is luxury.

Zalaba designed this eclectic collection during her stay in Singapore where she loved to visit the club LULU lounge and the major exhibition "Minimal".

Inspired by Minimalism artists like Donald Judd and Olafur Eliasson - key figures of the Minimalist movement. Zalaba is using geometric forms and industrial materials to create sculptural furniture which showcase the essence of purity. Using repetition as a common element of minimal art.
